"The Aquatic Systems Mosquito Education (ASME) program of the Lee County Mosquito Control District was present at the Edison Regional Science and Inventors' Fair, which for the first time, was held on campus at FGCU. Pictured is Eric Jackson, ASME teacher and Sabrina Perri, FGCU intern, talking with visitors to the exhibit. Parents and students had the opportunity to view a number of five aquatic insects, view a variety of cased insects from around the world, examine three (3) different species of mosquito larvae and pick up informational hand-outs relevant to the science of mosquito control. In addition, Brian Murphy and Neil Wilkinson of the ASME program provided a series of presentations on the local environment and mosquito control issues to a group of visiting students and members of the public."

The Florida Mosquito Control Association held the 2012 Aerial Short Course classes here at our Districts. We had approximately 150 people attend this course—not only from Florida but from the following states as well: Delaware, Iowa, Louisiana, So. Carolina. We were pleased to see our visitors here from Greece. They have trained with us in the past.

Aquatic Technician, Jeremy Ford, displayed Airboat #333 on January 14, 2012 at the Annual Airboat and Buggy Conservation Club of Southwest Florida. A variety of airboats and swamp buggies were on display at the Lee County Civic Center. Their committee invited several governmental agencies, such as the Fish & Wildlife Commission and Lee County Hyacinth Control District so the public could view our equipment and ask questions about the work our District performs and the types of equipment used for different results. Jeremy was advised that their organization needs to raise money so they may have areas for their own recreational usage.

Blessed and Happy Retirement to Robert L. (Happy Bob) Harper. His retired friend Bob (Hoop) Harper, Mrs. Harper, Mr. Gale and the entire staff congratulated Bob.
