

LESS BITES, LESS MOSQUITOES

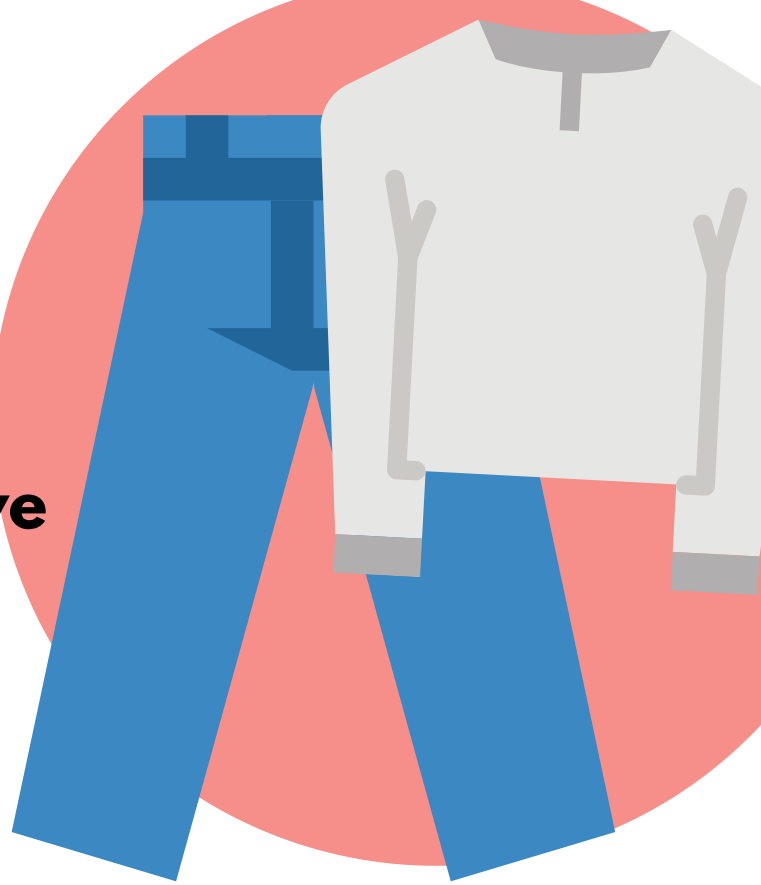

Fight the Bite

Only female mosquitoes bite. They seek blood for egg production. A female mosquito can lay hundreds of eggs after taking a single blood meal. Preventing mosquitoes from biting you prevents more mosquitoes from growing around your home!

Use an Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) registered insect repellent.

Wear loose, light colored, long sleeve shirts and pants.

Maintain screens around your patio and windows.

When possible, avoid being outside during peak mosquito activity (dawn and dusk).
